

My complaint is regarding Sinclair affiliated stations being forced to air the propogana film "Stolen Honor". I am a teacher. I try to instill values in my students. Yet, when the adults around them show such a lack of them, my job is all the more difficult. Fahrenheit 11 required viewers to pay. Tabloids require payment to spread their ignorance. Yet, Sinclair can bully its stations to send its smear campaign into our homes without payment or permission? Is it a hope to fool the ignorant? To elect a president is the most important thing we do as a nation and to use money and power to force-feed lies is unAmerican. At least I hope it is. In my classroom, we pledge justice for all in our country every morning. If Sinclair chooses this strategy this week, will there really be any? They could act responsibly; they have that opportunity. Show our children they need to be. Sinclair can express their opinion in a responsible manner without the use of duress. The FCC could also act responsibly by protecting our nation from such ill-use. That is their obligation. A nation's youth is watching. They follow by example, and they will follow your lead. Which way will you take them?
